

12 interactive exhibitions

The encounters of design anthropology are unfolding in situated practices of both professional and academic work and these practices are only partly accessible through traditional modes of academic discourse. To stimulate inquiry and reflection on these unfolding practices, the conference invited exhibits that opened up such design anthropological encounters.

The Design Anthropological Futures Conference hosted twelve Interactive Exhibitions. An interactive exhibition is a multi-sensory presentation model which integrates different forms of material (such as audio, video, physical installations, etc.). The exhibits were presented throughout the conference, and formed the bases of short workshops where exhibitors invited conference participants to engage with the exhibited content, furthering the discussion about design anthropological practices.

The Interactive Exhibitions were curated by Brendon Clark, Sara Reinholtz & Nicholas Torretta of the Interactive Institute Swedish ICT.

Click on the icons below to watch short videos of each interactive exhibition

Between You and Me: Using “Us” as an Exploration Tool
Aylin Alpay, Trieuvy Luu, Helle Taanquist

Encounters with Diasporic Futures
Noémi Zajzon

Democratic Design Experiments in Rio de Janeiro
Zoy Anastassakis, Clara Juliano, Marina Sirito, Barbara Szaniecki

Concepts Guiding our Path
Catharina Thiel Sandholdt

Absence Ethnography - what are you missing?
Dr Jo-Anne Bichard, Paulina Yurman

Liveliness of things: Speculative Exploration of the possibilities for a postcolonial museum
Ika Peraic

The Future is Today. Scripting public debate on participatory spatial planning processes
Liesbeth Huybrechts, Sarah Martens, Oswald Devisch

School's Co-Design Lab
Dana Prives

The Memory Cloud Apparatus
Daniel Anthony Rossi, Bettina Schwalm

The Hall of Future
Lauren Wong

Tangible Encounters with Field and Theory
Jacob Buur, Wafa Said Mosleh, Louise Løgstrup,

Hidden Habits
Caroline Arvidsson

