

What does this local case mean to you?

Is the value in the scenario, the pictures, the individual stories or rather in the tools (e.g. website, cargobike) or approaches (e.g. capacity building)?

How would you make use of these tools, approaches, stories or scenarios for your own context/practice?

What are - according to you - good practices in transferring these kind of cases?